Notes: These are named after the 3 pubs which have hosted the Monday session in Durham over the last 50 years. See recording at https://youtu.be/LkPSt-0y4q0?si=LX8cenzA4__PamoR. I can see this was written by a mandolinist! This is one case where the bowings are crucial for playing some of these runs, and I had to make a few other adjustments.

Neat tune! Simple in its basic form, but it has really grown on me.

I'm afraid I don't know if there's a "standard" form of the tune; this is just me cobbling together what I've heard and what I've invented on top of it.

Notes: Another new tune for me. Seems to have a lot in common with The Blackbird set dance, with its repeated landing on the open D, but is also recognizably distinct. Still figuring out chords and fine-tuning the arrangement. One interesting feature is a "slippery" C, sometimes sharp in line with with the key signature and sometimes dropping down to natural.

Notes: Rye Straw seems to have a zillion variations. The core of this version draws from Darol Anger's arrangement, where he seems to mash the 16 bars of one of its usual B-parts to create a 'bridge' C-part of 10 bars. It's pretty neat!

Notes: Bonnie plays this on the viola and it sounds awesome. I've transposed it up a fifth to work on the fiddle. Another interesting thing is that she switches between A dorian (with a C natural) - which seems to be the standard - and mixolydian (C sharp). She combines B&B with Cuzle Together, another slipjig also in Amix (as well as Elsie Marley). This is supplemented with a version in Edor by Fraser and Haas, with a nice B-part.

$\text{♩} = 100$

The musical score for 'Elsie Marley' is written in 3/8 time with a key signature of one sharp (F#). The tempo is marked as 100 beats per minute. The score consists of six staves of music. Chords are indicated by letters A, D, G, and Em above the notes. Up-bow marks (V) are placed above specific notes. The piece ends with a double bar line and repeat dots.

Source: Horseplay (Roughshod, 2006), with a few tweaks

Notes: A great romp of a tune. I find it helpful to "pop" the up-bows where marked.

The Maid At The Spinning Wheel

$\text{♩} = 100$

The musical score is written for a single melodic line in G major (one sharp) and 6/8 time. The tempo is marked as a jig with a quarter note equal to 100 beats per minute. The score consists of six staves of music. The first staff begins with a G chord. The second staff includes first and second endings, both marked with a G chord. The sixth staff includes first and second endings, both marked with a G chord. Chord markings (G, D, A) are placed above the notes to indicate the harmonic structure. The melody is characterized by eighth and sixteenth notes, typical of a jig.
