

---BREAKDOWNS---

These are basically reels, but they reflect the dance culture of the central/southern US, where they're often called hoedowns. are popular contest pieces, usually elaborated in the "controlled improvisation" style pioneered by Eck Robertson, Benny Thomasson, Byron Berline, and others.

Ye Old Elm Tree Rant

Notes: These are named after the 3 pubs which have hosted the Monday session in Durham over the last 50 years. See recording at https://youtu.be/LkPSt-0y4q0?si=LX8cenzA4\_\_PamoR. I can see this was written by a mandolinist! This is one case where the bowings are crucial for playing some of these runs, and I had to make a few other adjustments.

Neat tune! Simple in its basic form, but it has really grown on me.

I'm afraid I don't know if there's a "standard" form of the tune; this is just me cobbling together what I've heard and what I've invented on top of it.

Notes: Another new tune for me. Seems to have a lot in common with The Blackbird set dance, with its repeated landing on the open D, but is also recognizably distinct. Still figuring out chords and fine-tuning the arrangement. One interesting feature is a "slippery" C, sometimes sharp in line with with the key signature and sometimes dropping down to natural.

Notes: Rye Straw seems to have a zillion variations. The core of this version draws from Darol Anger's arrangement, where he seems to mash the 16 bars of one of its usual B-parts to create a 'bridge' C-part of 10 bars. It's pretty neat!

B-part

The image displays a musical score for the song "The Sound of Silence" by Simon & Garfunkel. It is presented in a four-staff format, with each staff containing a line of music and corresponding chord diagrams. The key signature is one flat (B-flat), and the time signature is 4/4.

The first staff (Guitar) shows the following chords: Dm, Dm, A7, A7. The second staff (Piano) shows: Dm, Dm, A7, Dm. The third staff (Guitar) shows: Dm, Dm, A7, A7. The fourth staff (Piano) shows: Dm, Dm, A7, Dm, C.

The music is written in a simple, melodic style, with the guitar part often playing a single note or a simple chord, and the piano part providing a harmonic accompaniment. The overall mood is contemplative and melancholic, characteristic of the song.

Edor version by Fraser and Haas

Notes: Bonnie plays this on the viola and it sounds awesome. I've transposed it up a fifth to work on the fiddle. Another interesting thing is that she switches between A dorian (with a C natural) - which seems to be the standard - and mixolydian (C sharp). She combines B&B with Cuzle Together, another slipjig also in Amix (as well as Elsie Marly). This is supplemented with a version in Edor by Fraser and Haas, with a nice B-part.
